ONE VALLEY, WORLD CLASS EVENTS

Kranjska Gora is a great destination for winter sports and outdoor activities in the embrace of the Julian Alps. There are plenty of adventures that you want to experience for yourself, from active holidays to peacefully discovering a natural and cultural heritage. In winter, you can enjoy countless activities on the snow, from cross-country skiing, ice skating, snowshoeing, ice climbing, ski touring to alpine skiing. Most Slovenians make their first ski turns in Kranjska Gora. Therefore, it is not surprising that for decades, Kranjska Gora hosts two of the largest winter sports events in Slovenia, which have greatly contributed to the development of tourism in Kranjska Gora.

Every time when Planica hosts the best nordic athletes of the world, the site breathes as one, the village dresses in the colours of Planica, and you can feel the excitement and cheering energy everywhere! This winter, the Golden Fox comes to Kranjska Gora for the first time under the organization of the Institute SLOSKI. The responsibility is as great as its tradition. 60 years. We will do our best to continue the path that was proudly outlined on the slopes of Pohorje back in 1964.

THE 60-YEAR HISTORY OF THE GOLDEN FOX

PODKOREN, KRANJSKA GORA

Between January 6 and 7, 2024, the world's best female alpine skiers will compete at the Golden Fox competition. An unforgettable party and a magical sports atmosphere; the Golden Fox is a skiing holiday, representing an important part of Slovenian culture, which is why we are working hard and proudly preserving its tradition in Slovenia for the sixth decade.

Slovenian skiers will also perform, the highest expectations are for Ana Bucik, Andreja Slokar, Meta Hrovat and Neja Dvornik. We will also host many local stars of the Golden Fox, whose names have already been written in golden letters in the history of Slovenian sports.

We are announcing not only an exceptional sporting event, but also a great party that will take place on January 6 and 7, 2024 under the slope of Podkoren. On Saturday, Magnifico will warm us up between the two races, and in the evening, we will continue the real party on the big stage in Kranjska Gora with the Mambo Kings. On Sunday, we will welcome the Čuki under Vitranc.

We hope, we will welcome you as well!

HISTORY OF THE GOLDEN FOX

THE GOLDEN FOX IS UNDESTROYABLE AND LEGENDARY

MARIBOR, KRANJSKA GORA

There are countless stories written by competitors and hard workers in the 60-year history of the Golden Fox, and it is not surprising that they have left their mark on the hearts of alpine skiing fans. Without the courage and vision of Marjan Kožuh, Franci Čop and Dušan Senčar, who in 1963 dared to think outside the box, Slovenia and the sports world would not have had an exceptional sporting event where women have the main say.

Already a year later, the fearless ladies demonstrated their skills in sliding down the white slopes at the opening match for the Pohorje Cup, during which Frenchwoman Marielle Goitschel made history as the first winner of the Golden Fox.

It was not long before a match of the highest level of competition took place. In 1970, the ski foxes took part in the premier test for World Cup points on Pohorje. Back then, American Barbara Ann Cochran celebrated the overall victory after the slalom and giant slalom in the finish area.

In 1971, with the first international Eurovision broadcast, the good image of the Golden Fox took on new dimensions. The fans watched the bold girls and the superbly executed World Cup match from the comfort of their home armchairs.

Zlata Lisica was the scene of many novelties that were introduced in the World Cup. In 1972, for the first time in the history of women's alpine skiing, two giant slalom races took place under Pohorje.

For six decades, the Golden Fox ploughed the fallow land of women's alpine skiing in Slovenia. Due to weather conditions, the biggest women competition in this part of the world was held eleven times in Kranjska Gora, and once in Sarajevo and Bad Gastein.

In all these years, successful Slovenian alpine skiers have also left their mark, proving many times that the Golden Fox was not only the domain of top foreign skiers. The most successful among them is Mateja Svet, who won the Golden Fox twice after relentless duels with the legendary Vreni Schneider. Seven years later, in 1997, Urška Hrovat ensured the Slovenian's renewed success on home soil. The last one to put the Golden Fox in front of her name was Tina Maze, the best skier of the 2013 season.

The top three ladies of Slovenian skiing were, however, far from being the only ones who made the home fans feel euphoric. Nataša Bokal, Katja Koren and Špela Pretnar can also boast of placing among the top three in the competition so loved by Slovenians.

The Golden Fox produced serial winners and launched many hitherto unknown alpine skiers to the fore. Among all the participants, the seven-time Golden Fox queen, Vreni Schneider, recorded the most total and individual victories in her extensive statistics.

In recent seasons, following the footsteps of the Swiss, the absolute ruler in terms of the number of victories in the World Cup, is the American Mikaela Shiffrin, who four times captured the title of the best fox among all foxes.

The Golden Fox is undestroyable and legendary, regardless of the location, weather conditions and social situation that shaped the performance of slalom and giant slalom races. In the 60 years of searching for the best fox, we have witnessed tears of happiness and of sadness, which have given the competition its indelible patina.

TONE VOGRINEC

TO THE GOLDEN FOX COMPETITION WITH BUS NUMBER 6

Tone Vogrinc is the Alpha and Omega of skiing in Slovenia, and for more than three quarters of his life he is inseparably connected with the Golden Fox competition. We joined him in recollection of the very beginnings of the competition, which has a longer tradition than the World Cup, discussed the importance of the brand of the competition, which in 2024 will be held in Kranjska Gora for the 12th time, and he also confided in us some interesting stories that besides, of course, the most beautiful memories related to the domestic victories of Mateja Svet, Nataša Bokal, Tina Maze and, last but not least, Urška Hrovat (although hers in Maribor was not considered a Golden Fox competition) are imprinted in his memory.

The Golden Fox celebrates a milestone of 60 years, and you turned twenty more in February 2022. Today, what are your memories of the beginnings of one of the most prominent competitions on Slovenian territory?

In those days, there were no World Cup competitions held by the International Ski Federation (FIS). There were only so-called FIS A and B competitions, first and second category competitions. At these competitions, we did not have the opportunity to follow all the best competitors everywhere. Dušan Senčar, the then president of SC Branik, was very involved in the International Ski Federation, all the while he was thinking about how to bring such a competition to Maribor. This led to the fact that both men and women FIS B competitions were soon organized in Maribor. Due to good organization of these competitions FIS also awarded the FIS A competition to Maribor, which took place on Mariborsko Pohorje. These were the pure beginnings, the seeds of the Golden Fox.

60.LDENFOX
AUDI FIS SKI WORLD CUP KRANJSKA GORA
KRANJSKA GORA 2024

But the first competitions were not held in the lower part of Pohorje?

No, those competitions took place on the upper part of Pohorje, i.e., below the Bellevue Hotel. The course was very, very steep, more or less unsuitable for this level of competition. Many competitors were disqualified, but at the start there were already world-famous competitors, such as the French sisters Marielle and Christine Goitschel. All of a sudden, the world's elite was gathered on Pohorje. Once the World Cup came to life internationally, Senčar, with his influence at the FIS, achieved that Maribor from the FIS A competitions made progress to a World Cup Competition, which, however, is two years younger than the Golden Fox competition itself.

So, you could say that it grew from small to big, or that everything has developed from a rural competition into a competition of the highest level. Why were all the best female skiers in the world coming to Maribor even then?

In some other sports, the best are attracted to the start with monetary compensation and prizes, but in alpine skiing, the possibility of obtaining a better start number has always been the biggest motive. Therefore, no competitor from the world's elite could afford to miss a competition, as the points for obtaining a better start number also depended on the gap to the best. Thus, in races where there were good tracks and small gaps, the competitor could not afford to lose the possibility of a good starting number or getting it, respectively. Even then, as it is today, the difference was whether you started at the beginning or later. At the beginning of the Golden Fox, the tracks were not prepared as well as they are today. At that time there was no technical snow yet, the tracks were already completely poached, destroyed after number 5 or 10. That is why the start number was even more important then.

The golden fox has never disappointed with the atmosphere, with the attendance of spectators along the track, right?

At that time, Maribor was, apart from some competitions in Austria, the most visited competition of the World Cup, and it is a credit to the city itself. The snow stadium was slowly being built, from the upper, unsuitable part of the track, everything was slowly moved lower, into the valley. The snow stadium was in reach by city bus number 6 to every man and woman from Maribor. Thousands of spectators gathered, also because our competitors suddenly became very competitive. The crowds of spectators at the competitions were also highly appreciated by the International Ski Federation. And even then, we had discussions about the need to bring the competitions as close as possible to the audience, to cities. If we are exaggerating a little, nobody is interested in a competition that takes place at 2,500 meters above sea level, where only three bears and four rabbits would come. Very important for the overall image of the event are the accompanying program and events outside the competition track, a peripheral program that can only be well taken care of in cities. Over the years, the Golden Fox has paid a lot of attention to these events.

It is only logical that in connection with Mariborsko Pohorje we speak of a fox, but how come the adjective golden is added next to it?

For a long time, it was not known what the competition would be called. In the beginning it was a FIS 1A competition. Then the leading officials put their heads together and came up with this idea. Foxes are at home on Pohorje, that's a fact. To emphasize this, to make it even more interesting, that this was no ordinary fox, they added the adjective golden. There were times when the first three competitors received a real fox fur as a prize in addition to trophies. The winner the more yellowish and so on, so that it coincided with a place on the podium. As you can imagine, this had to be discontinued over the years. That's when brooches in the shape of a fox were created.

You yourself mentioned that the history of the Golden Fox is longer than the history of the existence of the World Cup. The Golden Fox brand has its own value.

This brand is worth its weight in gold. That's why Maribor appeared on television, and that's why it became recognizable in the world. When you mention this city abroad, people recognize it because of the Golden Fox and the appearance of the Maribor football players in the Champions League. This brand has now moved to Kranjska Gora, but fortunately it remains in Slovenia. However, I hope that the Municipality of Maribor will be interested in cooperation and will do everything that was promised to establish a new track on Pohorje.

AUDI FIS SKI WORLD CUP KRANJSKA GORA
KRANJSKA GORA 2024

If this happens, it is possible that the Golden Fox will return to Štajerska region, but otherwise let's be happy that the competition remains in Slovenia or in Kranjska Gora.

The Golden Fox is also undoubtedly very important for the development of Slovenian skiing. For young people to see their idols or maybe the future idols, how they ski, rejoice not far away from their homes, is actually priceless.

Absolutely. This may even be the most important moment. In addition to the audience, the competition on the home ground also attracts all the youngest competitors, who see on the spot what such a competition looks like, and it gives them extra strength to try to achieve what their predecessors have already achieved. Today, young people have an incredible number of possibilities to engage in sports, which is why it is all the more important. If there were no such competitions in Slovenia, even fewer parents would devote their resources and energy to it, as they would think that they are investing in a sport that is disappearing from our horizon. Let's not forget that alpine skiing has a lot of media coverage, which means a lot. We have to be able to take advantage of this, and domestic competitions are therefore an excellent springboard.

You are inseparably connected to the Golden Fox for three quarters of your life. Is there a story that was most memorable to you?

Every year there was an election for Miss among the competitors. When the World Cup ended, the most beautiful competitors were announced at a special event, I think they crowned the top three. I especially remember Patrizia Du Roy de Blicquy from Belgium, who became Miss Golden Fox and therefore the media followed her even more closely, even though she did not achieve any visible results. It was a nice social event. The Golden Fox has always had a great social, not only competitive, significance. But we have to know that everything used to be much more relaxed, it wasn't as tense as it is today, when the competitors hardly find 5 minutes of free time. And Maribor was especially famous for this event, for the relaxation that reigned on the Golden Fox.

Would you agree that the competitions for the Golden Fox gave the feeling that this event had a very special soul?

Definitely! I myself had many contacts around the world, especially with the German and Austrian national teams. Many times, the conversation turned to the competition in Maribor. Without exception, everyone talked in superlatives, always talking about how it was and how it will be great again. And this despite the fact that the International Ski Federation already started with comments that the course was too easy. But I have always been an absolute supporter of the fact that every year, the World Cup consists of competitions that take place on a different terrain. It's not like football, where the dimensions of the field are the same everywhere. In skiing, every track is different, the winner of the World Cup is the one who is good on the easy, medium, and very hard tracks. The points are added up and therefore comments about a track being too easy or too difficult are discarded. Now we have a very difficult track in Kranjska Gora, but attention - the best will win again.

I WANT THE CHERRY ON TOP OF THE CAKE

ANA BUCIK

IT IS EXTREMELY IMPORTANT THAT THE COMPETITIONS ARE HELD IN SLOVENIA

Ana Bucik will always remember January 16, 2010, when she competed in the World Cup race for the first time in the giant slalom for the Golden Fox, six years later she realized how noisy it is in the finish arena when a Slovenian woman takes the lead, later in Kranjska Gora she succeeded in this, too. She does not hide that after the 5th place the year before last, she now has one more goal left in front of her, which she wants to fulfil in the Golden Fox competition.

In 2010, you competed for the first time at the Golden Fox. Are the memories still good enough to share with us today?

I remember that competition well, it was also my first start in the World Cup, and of course that stays in your memory. I remember how I admired all the female skiers who were at the top at the time and wanted to follow in their footsteps. I also always admired the good atmosphere at this competition. I am happy that I have been participating in a competition such as the Golden Fox for quite a few years now. I think it's a great tradition and I'm looking forward to it in the future.

You have already mentioned both the competitors and the atmosphere at the Golden Fox. Do you have any anecdotes related to this?

Ana Drev and I were very good friends. I remember when she took the lead at the finish arena and how the crowd reacted then, what a boom it was then. I told myself that I wanted to take the lead in a domestic competition once as well, and that really happened. I am happy that I was a part of it at the finish line when Ana competed, and also later when I succeeded in it.

These are feelings that one remembers for a lifetime, right?

Definitely! Unfortunately, there are more difficult moments in sports than such euphoric, 100% happy ones. Taking the lead in front of your home crowd is a special feeling. I have a very fond memory of it, and I think I will remember it for a very long time even after my career has finished.

How has the Golden Fox helped in the development of your career?

I think it is extremely important that the competitions are held in Slovenia, i.e., such as the Golden Fox and the Vit-ranc Cup. Whether it is Maribor or Kranjska Gora is not so important, it is essential that the competition is on home ground. When I was younger, I always followed this competition and wanted to compete in it. I hope that now me and the other girls inspire the younger generations who will want to compete in this competition too. This is an additional motivation. We also bring the competition in Slovenia closer to the spectators, I think that the competition itself is very important for the development of skiing in our country.

Ana Bucik (SLO)

AUDI FIS SKI WORLD CUP KRANJSKA GORA
KRANJSKA GORA 2024

Once a season you have the opportunity to compete in a domestic competition. Do you have a special ritual before the competition?

I have to say that I don't have a different ritual than before other competitions. But I always look forward to this competition, because all people that are close to me come, a lot of friends, everyone from the club, sponsors. All people that are really close to me are at the finish line, and this is a very special encouragement and motivation for me, and that's why this is one of the competitions I'm most looking forward to during the season.

You have been around for a long time, would you say that in all this time something has changed regarding the competition itself, the development of the Golden Fox itself?

These competitions have always been prepared at a very high level. The main change is simply that the competition has been moved from Maribor to Kranjska Gora. Considering all the trainings that we do in Kranjska Gora, this is even more home ground for us and is therefore in a way an even greater advantage for local competitors.

How has the psychological preparation for the race changed for you from the first competitions to today? In the beginning you were definitely nervous, how is it now that you are more experienced?

The first races were more like getting to know the World Cup, I was looking for the first points. Now those expectations are much higher. Now I'm calmer, I trust myself more, I see the advantages I have as a local competitor. I think that in recent years I have also been able to make good use of them. But I still want that cherry on top of a cake. Compared to the beginning, there is now greater calmness, greater confidence, and this also comes with the development of the competitor.

You talk about home ground advantage. Where do you feel it the most? Is it, for example, that the cable car operator greets you and wishes you good luck in your native language?

First and foremost, it is certainly knowledge of the terrain. We know Kranjska Gora very well, so we really know where we can make a good use of the advantages of the track. The home fans are a big advantage for me. You can simply feel it, it brings a different energy. When you go to the start position, everyone cheers you on, as you race you can hear the workers cheering for you along the entire track. This is definitely a big, big plus. Then there is everyone else too, all the volunteers who have been helping since early morning. Everyone you meet wishes you luck. It fills me with positive energy.

What message do you have for young female and male skiers who dream of competing in a domestic World Cup competition?

I want them to enjoy skiing above all. It's what drives you through tough times. You have to love this sport. You have to work and work again, but you also have to have a good time, have fun. I wish that the tradition of the Golden Fox will continue for a long time and that Slovenia will have many good competitors in the future as well.

MARCH 21 - 24, 2024

BEST POSSIBLE EXPERIENCE AT
NORDIC CENTRE PLANICA

For decades, the name PLANICA has been a synonym for ski jumping, for the best possible experience for spectators, visitors, and athletes.

Every year, the best ski jumpers from all over the world gather in Planica to compete at one of the most prestigious ski jumping venues. The competitions are full of adrenaline and extraordinary flights that fascinate both experts and fans.

Ski flying hill in Planica is one of the largest and the hill with the richest tradition. Since 1969, when it has been built, it has witnessed many records and unforgettable moments. Hill record was set by Ryoyu Kobayashi in 2019, he landed at 252 m.

It is time to join this story and support the ski-flying heroes together with thousands of fans.
